Southern Putman Families

Kentucky to Champaign County Ohio

Branches of Virginia Putmans arrived by several routes in the very early 1800s.

Zachariah Putman brought his family from Virginia through Kentucky into Champaign County in west central Ohio. Zachariah came to Ohio and remained there all his life. Some of his children moved to Illinois and will be covered in the section on ILLINOIS PUTMANS.

Henry Putman was a son of Zachariah Putman and Winnie Collins. His folks were covered in the section on KENTUCKY PUTMANS. Henry remained in Ohio and is covered next.

A lot of the early generation information came from the work of Thomas Russell Putman and William Munden Putman. All the details on the later generations came from the work of Denise Moore from Gautier Mississippi. She has information on even newer generations that I haven't included yet.

HENRY PUTMAN

Henry Putman was born in Mason County, Kentucky on November 21, 1815. When he was only one year old, he traveled with his family to Ohio and settled in St. Paris, Champaign County and was to remain there all his life.

In April 1841, he married Marianne Davis. She died in 1847, and on December 19, 1850, Henry married a second time, to Margaret Wolgamuth. Margaret was born May 15, 1831 and died December 6, 1901. There were no children in the first marriage and seven in the second. Henry was a farmer and very active in the Baptist church and the local schools.

Henry died at the age of 98 and died on January 16, 1913. The following are his children all of whom were born in St. Paris, Ohio. Although Henry's father Zachariah Putman's gravestone reads PUTMAN, Henry and his children began to use the spelling PUTNAM. The New England influence in Ohio was pretty strong.

Jane was born in 1850. She married Jesse Pence and moved to Denver, Colorado.
