James Putman

Abbeville County South Carolina to Copeiah County Mississippi

James Putman was a son of Daniel and Sarah Putman. He was born in 1782 in Culpeper County Virginia. He went with his family to Abbeville County South Carolina and there married Elizabeth Johnson in about 1800.

He well may have gone to Kentucky with his brother Zachariah and then headed south to Mississippi or more likely he went through Tennessee and down. The first several children were born in South Carolina and most of the others were born in Alabama in the 1815 to 1820 time frame. By the late 1820s, they were in Mississippi.

At any rate he was in the 1830 census of Copeiah County and was likely there a number of years earlier. Several of the daughters were married in Mississippi in the 1820s.

He remained in Copeiah County and died in Mississippi in about 1838.

Then it looks like Elizabeth married Stephen Smith on May 18, 1841 in Franklin County. They were in Scott County in the 1860 census. She was 80 at the time.
