

UPDATED AUGUST 30, 2012

LABAN PUTMAN

South Carolina to Kentucky to Indiana to Illinois

Laban was probably born in the 1770s in Union County. There are no recorded land records for Laban in South Carolina as he was perhaps too young to have his own farm. He first appears on a land grant in Warren County in 1802 and on a deed in Warren County, Kentucky on January 7, 1805.

He seems to have migrated to Kentucky several years earlier than the rest of the Putman Family. According to a History of Trigg County, Kentucky, Laban Putman was married to Elizabeth or Betsy Young on March 1, 1800 in Livingston County, Kentucky.

This is in a book of records from Trigg County, which was later carved out of Livingston. There are two references to this marriage, one in 1800 and one in 1805; I do not know which one was correct. Livingston and Trigg counties are west of Warren County, yet he was with the rest of his family in Warren County, Kentucky in 1802. I would assume that the 1800 date was correct.

There is a Lebon Putman listed in the First Tax List of Caldwell County, Kentucky in the year 1809. He is carried on the Warren county, Kentucky Tax lists of 1803, 1805 and 1806, but not any later.

Laban remained in Kentucky with his father and brothers until about 1810 when the whole family moved to an area near Princeton, Indiana in what was then Knox County. He joined the Indiana Volunteers and fought, along with Daniel's sons Reding and Hazeal, under William Henry Harrison at the Battle of Tippecanoe on November 7, 1811.

Laban was listed in the 1820 Indiana Census as living in adjacent Warrick County, which was also carved out of Knox County in 1813. He is listed under males 26 to 44, his wife under females of the same age and they had listed 1 son under 10 years, 1 son between 10 and 15, 4 daughters under 10 and one between 10 and 15 years old.

Laban is listed in the 1830 Census in White County in Illinois, which is on the southern Indiana border not far from Warrick County, Indiana. It is felt that he died in Illinois sometime after 1830. There is no mention of Laban Putman in the 1835 or 1840 census of either Illinois or Indiana.

There is, however, a Jane Putman, in her 30s, listed in Cane Creek Township of Gallatin County, Illinois in the 1840 census. She is Jane Ellison and she married Laban Putman junior in Gallatin County on April 14, 1836. Something must have happened to young Laban, as he is not around in 1840.

His son Barnet Putman is in adjacent Hamilton County in 1840 with his new family. The 1850 Illinois Census lists a Laban Putman, 14 years old in Cane Creek Township, Gallatin County living with the family of Joseph Pearce. He would be Laban 3rd. Gallatin and Hamilton Counties lie next to White County.

It would appear that Laban moved to Gallatin County in 1830 or 1831 and died there in the mid 1830s.

In 1830 Laban had 3 sons and 3 daughters. Here is the best I can now do about the children of Laban and Betsy Putman.

Catherine Putman

All I have is that she married George W. Gurley in Gallatin County on August 17, 1829.

Barnet Putman

He was born about 1805. He married Sarah Barker in Gallatin County on June 11, 1831. He was in Hamilton County in 1840 listed as Bennett Putman. He died March 17, 1846. In 1850, Sarah was widowed in Hamilton County with the family. I don't find any of the family in the 1860 census, and there was no index for 1870. However, in 1880 Sarah and her son William are in Du Quoin, Perry County, Illinois and another son, Thomas, is in Gallatin County, Illinois. Based on the various census records, their children were:

JAMES PUTMAN born in 1831. He was at home in 1850, but I don't find him anywhere in the entire mid west in 1860. He apparently married Pliny Presley on May 30, 1858 in Hamilton County. They remained there till the 1870s and then moved to Perry County.

MARY JANE PUTMAN born in 1833. She married William Foster December 25, 1849 so was not in the 1850 census with Sarah.

WILLIAM PUTMAN born September 5, 1835, and died July 26, 1903. He married Julia Ann Foster on December 27, 1854. In 1880 they are in Du Quoin, Perry County, Illinois. In 1900, William and Julia are in Shawnee, Gallatin County as is their son Thomas and his family. Their children were:

Thomas Barnet Putman born April 29, 1852. He married three times. First to Nancy White August 25, 1875, then to Lavinia Sensibaugh September 22, 1889, and finally to Effie Clayton who was with him in the 1900 and 1920 census. In 1880, he and Nancy were in Equality, Gallatin County. Thomas died April 25, 1921. Effie was born November 18, 1873 and died December 27, 1921. This family began to use the Putnam spelling. Their kids were:

William Putnam born April 18, 1878. He married Flora Susan Kee. He married Susie on March 13, 1901 and in 1920 was in Craighead County Arkansas. He died there August 26, 1927. Susie is widowed by 1930 and is in Truman, Poinsett County, Arkansas. Susie was born in Dent County Missouri February 21, 1882 and died in Poinsett County November 3, 1933. Children were:

Benjamin Putnam born in November of 1880. He married Margaret (Childers) McKensie. Think the full name is Thomas Benjamin Putnam. He and Peggy are in Cook County in 1930.

Walter A. Putnam born April 16, 1881 and died October 29, 1963. He married Susan Ledbetter and she was with him in 1910. She died and he married Nannie J. Lester on October 24, 1922. They had three children:

Lucinda Putnam born in November 1884 and died 5 months later.

James Putnam born February 1886 and died May 9, 1903.

Jesse Putnam born December 16, 1889. He married first, Lucy Rodgers. After her death, he married Rosie Lin Lester on October 2, 1924. He died May 16, 1963. Rosie was born April 11, 1902 and died July 24, 1997. Children, all with Rosie in Vanderburgh County Indiana were:

He and Della are in Du Quoin again in 1910. In 1920, Barney has a new wife Louvonia Quillman and also her mom is with them. By 1920, Della has split with the kids. A divorce I guess. He would have been born about 1811 or 1812 in Warrick County, Indiana. In 1820 he was listed as being under ten years of age. He married Jane Ellison in Gallatin County on April 14, 1836. He seems to have died before the 1840 census as Jane is shown as the head of the household. There seems to only have been one child:

LABAN PUTMAN 3rd born in 1837. In the 1850 census, he is 14 years old and living with the family of Joseph Pearce in Cane Creek Township of Gallatin County.
